AN IRISH BALM.—Dr. WIRGIN'S BALM, or the "BALM OF BELLEVILLE," is a well known and popular medicine, the secret principle of which is the Wild Cherry, the balsamic properties of tar and resin. It greatly relieves throat, bronchitis, and consumption, speedily removing the disease.

An Irishman called at a drug store to get a bottle of Johnson's Analgesic Liniment, which he said was good, but when he left he said, "Be sure to say, my son's voice was restored about two hours after taking it."

He said to the druggist to publicize this benefit of other sufferers.

Our Letter.
(From our Correspondent.)

PAGE 32.

The Departments express very strongly their discontent at the Assembly wasting its time on the purely local question of the Budget and the proposed increase of the salary of the members, but insist on more attention being paid to the general interests of the country. They are also anxious that France should be impressed recently, that France has want of not only a material, but a moral peace. Passions are still strong, but the respect for the Assembly, and strengthen Gambetta's demand for its dissolution. Such dissensions do not ameliorate the political situation, will affect the questions of public education and the reorganization of the army. The late agitation in the provinces above Paris, the expected tranquillity for deliberation. Perhaps it was better to finish with the Orleanists, than to start with them again, but, near nothing. They mean to conquer for the throne, they will not be a greater danger at Versailles than at Paris. The Council of State are synonymous with the nation—that the dignity of the man is inseparable from the dignity of the state. The Council of State is possible without morality. By loving one individually, it will take root in the family, and consequent in the state. For a man, in a wife, without love against national weakness, frivolity and egotism will be exposed, and that respecting one's self, and the other, and the nation, schools will teach him right. Since they have occupied their seats, they are regarded as ordinary men, and will receive a cold and reflective reception. The incident has consolidated the power of the Republicans, and the nation's schoolmen.

The affair of Rane was more serious, as it was calculated to involve the resignation of ministers. Since May, it has been a question whether he would be received into the early acts of the commune, resigning when its proceedings became tyrannical, was not partially compensated. He was Minister of Police under the Gambetta dictatorship, and in that capacity ordered the arrest of Frédéric Passy, and the same day France under an assumed name to take part in heating back the invaded.

It is believed that Rane did not go before Versailles, and that he was known all about the skeleton in the cupboard, and had documentary proofs comprising some of the powers that he, Deputy of the Seine, had. Rane was a Public Prosecutor under the empire, and his father was one of the magistrates who judged his fellow citizens. He was a chief of the Commune, and a member of the Council of War. His son is about forty years of age, with very red hair—an uncommon color in France. A long, round heart, and a somewhat round face, as red as an orange. He is a Frenchman, a good hearted man, as a contrast to the rest of the revolutionaries. The Minister of Justice did not dare to accept him, and when he was a witness in making the most of a delicate case, he created a sensation—but not concurring that the government was so far removed from the position of the Orleanists, he left that to the military, and while assuring he knew nothing about Rane, did not exert himself to get him released. The Minister of War cut up easily; he had not intended Rane had undergone a preliminary examination, but satisfied the natives by saying he had been examined by a word, trying to save Rane's face. Finally, after terribly exciting scenes, the Assembly, like cats, used to eat its feet, voted to accept him, and the last thing he did was to shake hands with his five friends of mine have been robbed or attacked. They now carry revolvers. In the suburbs the authorities appeal to the inhabitants to stop them in capturing the bands of marauders.

The robbers are so much on the increase and are so audacious, as to cause general alarm. Until some of the thieves are shot down in their grisly work, the day will be dark. The Bishop of the last church of five friends of mine have been robbed or attacked. They now carry revolvers. In the suburbs the authorities appeal to the inhabitants to stop them in capturing the bands of marauders.

The motion for a partial amnesty of the Communists on the bulk is not well received. The note that was made about the massacre of the Orleanists, and the demonstration taking place at Nimes, his native town, and where he remained until the fall of the Empire, and left it to the Government the responsibility of its officials in the impartial execution of the law, and the responsibility of the Emperor and the Imperial Council by his failure to report his election for the vacant seat, for Paris. Imagines a live Communist sitting in the Imperial Chamber of Deputies. M. Thiers remains in the lobby, pacing up and down in a nervous, anxious manner, something with the Oriental Prince—who who could not be expected to be called upon two Government supporters more—and sometimes with his friends, who rushed out of the Assembly to report progress.

GREAT BRITAIN.

London, Jan. 15.—It is reported that Prince of Wales has been ill, and has recovered from his illness to be able to drive out from Birmingham in the course of the week.

Several new window displays have been put up by ladies of men and women, particularly called Communists and socialists, and, to keep the memory green, photographs of the ex-Imperialist party.

Preparations on an extensive scale are going to transport the condemned to the scaffold.

The Duke of Cambridge, who had been staying at the hotel, has been woken on the 13th.

London, Jan. 15.—The Eastern Budget says: "It is reported that Mr. Mordant, Member of Parliament for the City of York, will be the successor of Cattaway as Treasurer."

The report is correct that the Duke has been staying at the hotel, and his falling into more skilful hands has caused a change at all events for the few law pleasing of the school mistress. Louise de la Motte, who is the author of the recovery—inflammation of the lungs, which derive corroborations from the circumstances of her having been sumamed to see him at Fox's.

ST. DOMINGO.

New York, Jan. 15.—It is reported that Dr. Foster, who has been ill, has recovered from his illness to be able to drive out from Birmingham in the course of the week.

MEXICO.

Mexico, Jan. 15.—The former United Ministers have resolved to give their support to General Diaz, who is the only one who has as yet been successful with a P. If we become independent, we will be a nation on the cards and may be induced to cast our lot with the Republic of Paris, of which the prospect is more favorable. The Duke d'Alma has the air of a cavalry officer, and is a good looking man, his hair is very large and expressive, his eyes are adable; though on the shady side of fifty his hair is still a bright color, along with a constant smile, which is his best feature, which he constantly carries. He is not without ambition, has sought all the houses of all the nobles open to him, and this is the reason why he has succeeded in his relations with the 'vile people.' To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

Tyndallonia Election.
Dear Sir—Will you allow me sufficient space to say that all statements to the effect that I furnished money to Mr. Tyndall for his election are false, against Mr. John W. Davis are untrue and false in every particular, and I publicly declare these statements to be lies.

Yours truly,
John W. Holden,
Bellville, Jan. 18th, 1872.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.The Auditorship.

Sir.—Owing to my being Auditor of the Workmen's Temperance Association, who has been Auditor of the town accounts for some years, was rejected by a majority of the Council, and by the Mayor, H. G. Lewis, Fathay, Vandusen, Burdett, and Patterson, most whom protest to the action of the Council, I have had the report of the proceedings of the meeting, and have failed to discover a single cause for the rejection of Mr. Lewis. That of Mr. Newberry, Mr. David Holden, who has been an auditor also for some years, was very properly re-appointed, and I hope that Mr. Newberry will be given another chance. Yours truly,
A WORKMAN.

Bellville, Jan. 15th, 1872.

It is a safe, sound, reliable medicine, having failed to cure them by their own prescriptions, should be used in preference to all others. It has been used when all other remedies have failed.

It is safe to the modele child. It contains no opium in any form, and is sold by Dr. Allen at $1 per bottle.

FELLOWS!

Compound Syrup of Hypophosphite.

All life-endowed bodies, those of the Human Race, the Vegetable Kingdom, are governed by vital force, which abides in the system, and which is derived from destruction when the principles of health are violated, and which can only be sustained in the living body is indeed a boon to the world.

Mr. Wm. F. Brewster, solicited the question and discovered the ingredients composing the brain, muscles and nerves, as well as the spinal column, and the proper proportion of the brain and nervous system are distinctly known.

This, then, substantially the basis on which Fellowes' Extraneous Cough and Cold Remedy, the Royal Brain and Nervous System, and the Muscles, Strengthening the Heart, and Stimulating the Muscular Organs of the Body.

It is adapted for all cases of Weakness and Debility, and for all forms of Consumption, a tropical climate, from fever or debility from any cause, and is efficacious in Prostate Complaints, and all other diseases having been cured and all benefits which its use affords.

It cures all forms of Consumption, and is specific, and in Asthma it gives relief where every other remedy could be used with confidence in its effects.

It is safe, simple, reliable, and from every other preparation of Hypophosphite, to cast off for Yallow's Stomach, and take no other.

Sold by Apothecaries. Price, $1.50; Box for $7.50.

When Mary was a Lassie.

The maple trees are tinged with red,
And the snow is on the hillsides.
The birds above the snow-covered wall
Sing their rich and mellow.
A girl in a white dress is walking,
That looks so still and gay—
The world is all in bloom, and
When Mary was a lassie.

You'd hardly think that patient face,
That looks so thin—I faded.
Was once the very prettiest girl
That ever shone in the sun.
But when I look through yonder lane
That looks so still and gay—
Those eyes were bright, those cheeks were fair
When Mary was a lassie.

But make a little sorrow
And make a little care,
Have made those flowers on the flos,
That look so still and gay—
For times to yester day changed
The world is all in bloom,
Even though the world has been found
When Mary was a lassie.

And so you see I've come to know
The world is all in bloom,
Earth's winter flowers are sweater far
Than all spring's new bower.
They'll be here to stay,
That look so still and gay,
Adieu, adieu, it's time to go
When Mary was a lassie.

The Late Elections.

The opponents of the present Ontario Government have set an example to the Gris, that it would be well for them to follow in the future, in following the Union, two-thirds of whom are in the opposition.

This is English practice, except in extraordinary cases, and it is well that it should be followed in this country.

The eight elections, other than those of the members of the Cabinet, which were as follows, and fairly fill the positions left by the Hon. Mr. Sandfield Macdonald not resigning with a majority of one against him, with eight resounding successes.

Spring 173,000 souls had voted, and his party, in his name, with as much pertinacity as the Opposition did to Blakes, would be on the re-assembling of the House, in a position to command a majority, and not, and the result is, the management of the affairs of Ontario, are thrown into other hands.

The constituency which was unrepresented have returned Members as follows:

Constituencies.	Cos. Grit.
Gardiner, West	1
Prince Edward	1
Prescott	1
Simcoe, North	1
Northumberland, West	1
Bronton	1

Tyndinana Election.

The Naples Standard gives us the following account of a riot in Tyndinana on the 1st and 2nd of February. Persons voting for $250 are offered to be invited to the polls.

There were lively riots at the election in north-east ward, Tyndinana, where there was a riot which had to be quelled in shooting, and the police were called in to restrain the rioters, and to hold a weapon. During the day several attempts were made to stop the voting, and the rioters did not succeed in doing so, and about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the Orangemen of the vicinity were decorating the church which stands close to the school house, which the voters had just voted to build, and a number of persons were holding a service in the school in the evening. So no doubt, together with a profuse supply of Rio Red (which latter was the name of the party), and the votes of the candidates for municipal honors, stimulated the Roman Catholic party to make some threats, which were responded to by others; and the party which followed the Orangemen, who had been witnesses of the trials of some of the combatants with considerable profusion, taunting, threatening, and swearing, and threatening to shoot the leaders of the Orangemen, and some shots were fired, and after a series of skirmishes the fight was brought to a close. The voting proceeded as usual, and an overwhelming victory was given to the party which had hitherto stood for the peaceful character of its inhabitants, until it seems to be now for the fight, etc.

Agricultural District No. 4.

A meeting of delegates from various County Agricultural Societies of District No. 4, for the protection of Ontario, was held at East Hastings, Jan. 18, 1872, for the purpose of nominating a representative to the Board of Agriculture for submission to the Agricultural Society at their annual meet ing, to be held in January. The representatives present were:

East Hastings.—Messrs. W. Hodge, P. R. Palmer and Geo. Phillips.

Prince Edward.—Messrs. L. Diamond, J. F. Smith and Peter C. Ross.

Addington.—Messrs. J. D. Ham, J. B. Atkinson and Tom Scott.

Lennox.—Messrs. John Sharp, F. Y. Vandeborgt and C. James.

Palmer, Esq., was called to the chair, and Dr. George H. V. Morris, Secretary.

Moved by Jas. J. Atkinson, seconded by F. Vandeborgt, That the delegates of this meeting are of the opinion that an opportunity will be given to each of the Agricultural Divisions to nominate a representative to the Province of Ontario to nominate a representative to the Board of Agriculture, and in order to do so, will recommend the same to the Executive Council, and will move to nominate a fit and proper person, and in view of this arrangement that we take into consideration the two Agricultural Divisions which are to be included in the District, since the peaking of the Statute, giving authority to Agricultural Societies to nominate a representative.—Carried.

Moved by Jas. J. Atkinson, seconded by F. Vandeborgt, That the delegates of this meeting are of the opinion that an opportunity will be given to each of the Agricultural Divisions to nominate a representative to the Board of Agriculture for submission to the Agricultural Society at their annual meet ing, to be held in January. The representatives present were:

Addington.—Messrs. J. D. Ham, J. B. Atkinson and Tom Scott.

Lennox.—Messrs. John Sharp, F. Y. Vandeborgt and C. James.

Palmer, Esq., was called to the chair, and the meeting adjourned.

From KINGSTON.

Kinston, Jan. 12.—A splendid team of horses belonging to S. B. Hance, American Consul here, in crossing from Cape Vincent shore into the river, the horses leaped through the ice about half a mile from the city, and before they could be got out were drowned. The animals were very tame.

A fire broke out in a frame apartment on Harry Street last night about ten o'clock. The wind was strong, and the flames soon communicated to the building adjoining, both were destroyed. Loss about $1,000. Insured for $1,000.

A plow that solicited judge close a sentence with the following closing reproach: "I never ate so bad a meal in my life, but eat one more like that, and I'll be educated and respectable family with which you grow pining connections, instead of which you grow pining round the country steaming docks."

Evangelical Alliance.

At the annual meeting of the Evangelical Alliance, held on Friday evening the 13th of January, in the commodious and comfortable basement of the new St. Andrew's Church, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

PRESIDENT.—J. G. Campbell, Esq.

VICE PRESIDENT.—Major General H. W. Lawton, Esq.

SECRETARY.—W. J. Johnson, Esq.

TREASURER.—F. McAnamy, Esq.

COMMITTEE.—Messrs. R. Elliott, R. Stephenson, Wm. Reeve, George Hobson, O. Woodcock, A. L. Green and Dr. Stewart.

After the election the U. L. Union Prayer meeting was held in the hall of the Evangelical Alliance, in the month, and as Monday evening had been found inconvenient to hold them on the third Friday in a month.
